Safe Families for Children

Any Child, Any Reason, Anytime

Safe Families for Children is a national movement partnering with the church to temporarily care for at-risk children, while strengthening families in crisis.

Making a Difference

Participating parents maintain custody, as their children, stay with a trustworthy family, while parents work towards overcoming the crisis. This service is of no-charge to the parents, and volunteers are motivated by their compassion and faith. Safe Families for Children is fast becoming a national movement for communities that want to expand their safety net for families experiencing difficulties.

Helping Families

When a crisis strikes many of us rely on relatives and friends for support, but for some parents this is not an option. Safe Families helps families in crisis get on their feet by providing short term care for their children with volunteer families.

“Trustworthy volunteer families motivated by their faith.”

SFFC Goals

1. Prevent child maltreatment
2. Deflect at-risk families from entering the child welfare system
3. Stabilizing and strengthening families in crisis

How Does Safe Families Work

Safe Families provides a loving, temporary home for children whose parents are in need.

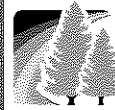

- Parents retain full custody and can request the return of their children at any time
- Volunteer families are extensively screened with fingerprint background checks and home evaluations
- Children ages 0-18 and parenting teens are eligible
- We are committed to reuniting parents and children as soon as possible
